Overall GBP Health: Needs Significant Work

Your profile is verified and has a perfect 5-star rating — that's a great foundation. But with only 1 review, no description, no posts, and no attributes, Google doesn't have enough information to rank you in local search results. The good news: every one of these gaps is fixable, and closing them will have a direct impact on your visibility.

02

What We Optimized For You

Here's everything we've done (or will complete) as part of your one-time GBP optimization. These are the foundational changes that set you up to compete.

Business Description

We wrote a keyword-rich, compelling business description (750 characters) that tells Google exactly what you do, where you serve, and why customers should choose you. Keywords targeted: epoxy flooring, garage floor coatings, concrete polishing, metallic epoxy, Katy TX, Houston area.

04

What You Need to Do

The optimization we've done builds the foundation — but your ongoing actions are what will actually move you up the rankings. These are the habits that separate businesses that rank from those that don't.

MOST IMPORTANT

Get More Reviews

Ask Every Single Customer for a Google Review

This is the #1 thing that will move the needle. You have 1 review. Your closest competitor has 53. The top competitor has 320+. Every new review is a direct ranking signal to Google.

After every job: Text or email your Google review link (see QR code below)

In person: "We'd really appreciate a Google review — it helps other homeowners find us. Can I text you the link?"

Target: 4–8 new reviews per month minimum

Timing: Ask the same day the job is done, while they're still excited about their new floor

Make it easy: Text them the link directly — one tap to leave a review

Milestone targets: 25 reviews by month 3, 50 by month 6, 100 by year 1

HIGH IMPACT

Post Regularly

Post to Google at Least Once a Week

Google Posts show up directly on your profile and signal that your business is active. Every competitor posts regularly — you need to as well. You can do this right from the Google Business Profile app on your phone.

Easiest method: Take a photo of a completed project, write 2-3 sentences about it, hit post

Include your location: "Just finished this garage in Katy" or "Beautiful metallic floor for a Cypress homeowner"

Add a call-to-action: "Call for a free estimate" or "Book your consultation today"

Mix it up: Project showcases, before/afters, tips, seasonal offers

It doesn't have to be perfect: A quick phone photo with a real caption beats no post at all

HIGH IMPACT

Upload Photos Consistently

Take Photos of Every Project — Upload 5-10 Per Month

GarageExperts has 981+ photos. Platinum Floor Coatings has 100+. Photos drive engagement and Google tracks your photo count vs. competitors.

Before & after shots of every floor (this is your best content)

In-progress shots showing the team at work

Close-up detail shots of metallic swirls, flake patterns, glossy finishes

Team photos — people trust faces

Variety matters: Different angles, different project types, residential and commercial

Target: 50+ photos on your profile within 3 months

ONGOING

Respond to Every Review

Reply Within 24 Hours — Every Single Time

Google tracks your response rate and response time. Every top competitor responds to reviews. Use the templates we provided, and always mention the type of work and location naturally.

Example: "Thank you! It was a pleasure installing your new epoxy garage floor in Katy. We love how the metallic finish turned out — enjoy your new space!"

For negative reviews: Stay professional, offer to resolve offline, never argue publicly

Even a short response counts — Google cares that you respond, not how long it is

Add any new services you start offering

Update hours for holidays or seasonal changes
